

Pre comms to staff to be sent out in May

During the past 15 months, people's lives have changed in a way that was very unexpected and unpredictable.

For staff working in acute and frontline healthcare settings, the effect of the Covid19 pandemic has been even more pronounced.

To ensure our workforce is continuously supported, Hertfordshire Public Health is working in partnership with the Hertfordshire & West Essex and Suffolk & North East Essex integrated care systems (ICSs) to develop a behaviourally-informed intervention, taking a holistic approach to identifying health, behavioural and lifestyle challenges.

The aim is to ensure that staff get the right help at the right time in the right way by providing support and expertise to address any issues they may have. We want to consult with you as staff members so that you can let us know what your needs are in order to help us develop a platform that meets these needs.

In June you will receive details of a staff consultation that will take less than two minutes to complete. Your views are invaluable to us in order to develop an intervention that is relevant and appropriate to meet the needs of all staff groups.

We are aware that a number of questionnaires have come your way over the past year, however, the findings from this survey will support the development of a platform that staff can access to support their overall health and wellbeing.

Keep a look out for the consultation form coming your way in June. If you wish to be interviewed, there is an option to select in the form to indicate your interest.
