

I am the Sussex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust LGBTQ+ Inclusion Training Lead and CAMHS Transgender Pathway Training Lead. I have worked for SPFT for the last 12 years. I designed my LGBTQ+/ Gender Identity training packages alongside Health Education England, I am being advertised by the NHS Leadership Academy. I deliver training across the UK to NHS Trusts and outside organisations as well as within my own Trust.

Due to Covid19, I have translated all of my trainings to virtual LIVE format, which is allowing me to offer the training across the whole of the UK. As I have delivered my virtual training successfully to numerous Trusts, I am now contacting all NHS Trusts across the UK to offer my virtual LIVE training experience. I designed the training to suit the needs of all NHS employees as well as education and social services. I have delivered training across NHS services, including: in-patient, adult community, CAMHS, corporate, executive, research & education, psychological profession trainees, junior doctors and GPs.

The training feedback has been consistently excellent throughout for both my face-to-face and virtual training workshops. I purposefully designed the virtual LIVE training to be as interactive as the face-to-face training, as it is important for attendees to take part in the learning experience. Staff training is vital for the wellbeing of our young and adult LGBTQ+ people. There is currently a national drive for staff of all health, social care and education organisations to receive high quality LGBTQ+ awareness training.

The LGBTQ+/ Gender Identity Basic Awareness Training is a 3-hour training and provides an excellent foundation of knowledge and understanding, alongside self-reflection, meaningful discussion and a safe space for individuals to explore their underlying beliefs and assumptions.

The LGBTQ+/ Gender Identity Intermediate Mental Health Training is a 3-hour training to follow on from the Basic Awareness Training. It offers an in-depth exploration of the mental health needs of young and adult LGBTQ+ people and puts LGBTQ+ identity into context regarding the historical and political backdrop and looking at LGBTQ+ identity today.

Both trainings allow attendees to gain a rich knowledge and understanding of LGBTQ+ issues and needs, and help to develop confidence to support young and adult LGBTQ+ people and to challenge discrimination if it occurs.

I have attached my training flyers and menu of trainings for your perusal, showing the content of the training workshops and cost.
